THE Premier League is over for the season.

We may as well crown Chelses now - because there is no way it's going anywhere else this year but Stamford Bridge.

I can't see Chelsea losing another game this season - and that's not because I think they're that good, it's because the league is so poor.

I agree with former Man Utd boss David Moyes who said it's the poorest Premier League in years.

Moyes was pillorled for saying it by people who said it was a case of sour grapes.

Dumped

But it is obvious to any football fan that this has been a pretty poor season in terms of real "quality". The teams at the top have gone backwards, proven by the fact all English teams were dumped out of European competitions at such early stages. And it is debatable whether those at the bottom are as good as those who lead the Championship.

So roll on next season and let's hope in terms of quality it's much better than this one.

And lastly – painful though it is for a Liverpool fan to say it congratulations, Jose!

First past post keeps ro parties cosv

EVERYONE is obsessed by polls at the moment.

poils at the moment.

Not a day goes by without hearing an expert tell us the Tories are up by two points or Labour are down by one.

But should we all be getting excited and do those polls really matter?

matter?

The answer is they should matter, but in reality they don't. Wherever a party is in the polls Wherever a party is in the polls is an indicator of how many votes it will get nationally - and that should determine how many sents it gets in parliament.

So if the Conservatives get 33 per cent of the votes, they should get 33% of the sents.

Or if UKIP get 15%, then our seat haul should be somewhere in that ballpark, Shouldn't it?

Well no if itset doesn't work

Well, no. It just doesn't work like that, even though it quite clearly should.

clearly should.
Instead, we have a system whereby each candidate fights a head-to-head battle in a small constituency of around 70,000 people—and winner takes all.
So if the Labour candidate in a constituency gots 10,000 votes, the Lib Dem 9,999, UKIF 8,000 and Tory 6,000, Labour wins and you get a Labour MP.

On the face of it that might seem fine, but it means that all sem fine, but it means that all those who voted for parties other than Labour get NOTHING even though all their votes combined are more than DOUBLE that of the Labour "winner". The vast majority of us live in so-called "safe" constituencies, where a party is so entrenched that if they put a rosette on a pig it would still get olected.

As a result, there are only about 100 seats out of 650 which change hands from election to election — meaning just 15% of voters nationwide actually make a difference.

a difference.

Swing

So the election is pretty much decided by around 300,000 people who vote in 'swing' constituencies, and the policies of our political parties are designed to appeal to those small few rather than to those small few rather than the very many.

This is why all parties – except.
UKIP and the Greens – have pretty similer policies. They're all chasing exactly the same vote.
This may well have worked in the 19th Century, but that is where it should have stayed.

We're supposed to be a fully inctioning 21st Century We're supposed to be a fully functioning 21st Century democracy - so why haven't the Westminster parties do something about it?

They won't, because they all benefit from what is an Establishment stitch-up.

The electoral system we have

The electoral system we have, known as the 'first past the post' system, is designed to provide

But in reality this merely Westminster carries on unaltered by blatantly favouring the big two parties.

It also ensures that people with alternative views are not represented in the House of Commons AT ALL.

Commons AT ALL.
It's time we did nway with this failed old system of voting and brought in something new.
Something that ensured every voice was heard and every viewpoint was represented in the corridors of power.
The only way to do this is by having a system where every vote counts.

vote counts.

And that means some form of proportional representation.

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice - or experience than our own Agony Angels! This week MORGAN LEES has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Green-fingered friend my wi

Dear Morgan,

A COUPLE of weeks ago I caught my wife benking our "friendly" neighbour. Hes a very nice chap about 50 who took Me and very ince camp about 50 who took carly returement and who loves gardening Me and my wife are both 35.

I heard them chatting in the garden and he said he would come round and "trum her bush" My wife found this very funny, so I suspected that she fancied him.

that she fanced him.

I told her I was going out golfing but returned within an hour to see if she was in fact shagging him.

As soon as I got in I could hear moaning and grouning coming from our bedroom upstairs. I crept carefully up there and sure enough they were hard at it and I stood back from the open door where I could just shout see them as my neighbour for ked my wife.

She had her legs draped over his shoulders and the bed's headhoard was banging against the wall as he pounded into her.

ie wall as he pounded into her.
Just as he was about to climax he pulled out and positioned himself over her face where she then swallowed most of his load as he came heavily all over her face and books. After he got his breath back, they swapped positions with my masses straidling over his face as he lay on his back.

face as he lay on his back. Then he sport a good five minutes hungrily lacking her out. She was loving it and it wasn't long before she begged him to fork her again. The trouble is I got so turned on by watching her having sex without her knowing I was there. I think she's going to shop nim again this Friday because she's booked a day off work and I'm going to watch again.

to watch again
Do you think I'm woird?

JH, Merseyside

Morgan says...

NO. Lots of men are into this. But maybe you should tell your wife you've seen her at it with another man and that you really like it.

And then next time, you could perhaps fk her as ell! I'm sure she'd love two rampant cocks to play with t the same time!

Dear Morgan,

I M a married businesswoman in charge of a big sales firm and I boss around dozons of men But this all changed last month when the firm was taken over and a new chief exec arrived.

He's a pushy type who is always effing and inding at the staff

At first I put up with him, but one day I blew my top when he criticased me.

When I calmed down he smaled and said there was only room for one boss and I'd have to learn

my place
Well, I was furning inside at this, until he grabbed me, bent me over his desk, pulled up my skirt and gave me a good spanking!
I was so shocked I did not try and resist as he then teased my fanny with his expert fingers until I was virtually begging for him to fk mo over his desk

Now when I'm randy, I am deliberately rude to him and he spanks me. Is this a normal working relationship?

PG. Bolton

Morgan says...

NO - sounds like you've got everything in hand.

MONACO v JUVENTUS: TONIGHT, 7.45, SKY SPORTS

WHAT do you call a Scotsman in the latter stages of the European Champions Terrible joke which Noah clutched in his paw while walking from the Ark. But true tonight.

Willie Cultum — isn't that a name that belongs in this fine newspaper? — takes the whiatle as Monaco entertain Juventus.

The Italians take a 1-0 lead to Monte Carlo after Chile International Arturo Vidal struck the only goal in last week's Turin opener.

And we fancy the hosts to turn this "We are here on merit," was the message from Monaco, and visiting coach Massimiliano Allegri was inclined to agree as he steels Juventus for their biggest test yet. He said: "Monaco deserve to be in the quarter-finals.

-They finished above Benfice and Zenit in their group, conceding only one goal in They have the best defensive record in

They are very organised, with a good, clever coach. We are not taking this

Well said, old son. BET With that in mind it is 1-0 to Monaco for us (8/1 SetVictor). Enjoy yer nenalties

Red raring to go in HK

RED CADEAUX is "fit as a flea" ahead of his tilt at the £2million

QEII Cup in Hong Kong. The nine-year-old is having his 25th racing trip abroad and trainer Ed Duntop's assistant Rob Trevor-Jones couldn't be happle: with him.

"He raced in Australia nine days ago. He's fit and he's travelled well. He'll have an easy week.

"We might give him a breeze on the turf on Thursday morning but we'll see how he does. He doesn't need much "

Red Cadeaux is £50 short of winning £5million on the track — that's more than the mighty Frankel.

"He just takes it all in his stride," sald Trevor-Jones.

"Sure he has some menagement issues and that's why we avoid working or racing him on ground which is too firm. ha's not 100% straight-forward but no horse would be after 50 odd races over 70 odd miles.

"He's in great order and he still wants to be a racehorse. He'll tell us when he's had enough but right now he hasn't."

PRESSURE: Cook

Cook has to deliver says Gatt

CHICKET

FORMER England captain Mike Gatting thinks Alastair Cook might need a break from the too lob to get his career back on track.

The skipper has been on a shocking run with the bat and has now gone 33 Innings without making a Test match ton.

He was in poor form again in Antigua and it was like pulling teeth watching him scratch around in the crease before being dismissed cheaply in both innings. And Gatt — famous for putting away huge lunches and teas during his time in the whites — says it might help Cook to have a rest.

He said: "Maybe he needs a break from the captaincy, that's for people to sit and decide, I suspect it's about the runs though, not the captaincy.

Nerve

"He's a well-respected man in the team, the fact is he's a batsman, he's a captain and if he falls to get the runs somebody will have to make a decision."

But Gatting is adament that England shouldn't lose their nerve and bring Kevin Pletamen back into KP is making big noises at Surrey and even says he's prepared to open the batting if it helps get his career back on track.

That's something of a challenge to Cook as he seeks to keep his position at the top of the order.
Gatting said: "There are a few bridges that still need to be rebuilt. "Even if KP scores runs there might not be spaces avallable "If Gary Ballance, Ian Bell and Joe Root play well, there might not be a place for him.

"You've got to have somebody who isn't playing well to get Pletersen in. "He doesn't just come straight back - that would be unfair on the people in there at the moment. "If he does get runs, fine, but that's not the end of it. If people are playing well in the team, why should be just get straight

Bale force blown out for whites

R Madrid v A Madrid

GALACTICO Gareth Bale is a big miss for Real as they try to see off their Madrid rivals Atletico tonight.

The tie is finely poised at 0-0 and Real will be under massive pressure to get the job done in front of their own support. But they will have to manage with the Welsh ace who is struggling to overcome a calf injury. The 25-year-old hobbled off early into the clash with Malage on Saturday and it was first thought he would be OK for tonight's game.

But a scan has revealed more damage than was originally assessed. Luka Modric also limped out of the Malaga game and he'll be on the sidelines too — this time with a knee ligament problem that might have ended his season.

Karim Benzema is also out with the knee problem that stopped him at the weekend. The visitors have a few injury worries too but key striker Mario Mandzukic trained with the side yesterday and is expected to be fit.

But midfielder Mario Suarez is banned for the repeat of last season's DIMITAR Berbatov reckons his Monaco side can upset Juventus and make it to the semi-final.

The Italians head for the south of France with a 1-0 load from the first leg in

But the Monaco hitman is confident they can turn that slim margin around in front of their own fans.

He said: "The Champions League semi-final is within our reach.

"We're a good team, we've already shown that both against Arsenal, and a week ago in Turin. We did not deserve to lose. "In the first half we should have had a penalty, if the referee had given it, it would have been a different game.

"Then in the second haif we had a non-existent penalty given against us, but that's football.

We look forward with confidence and optimism. we're preparing well for the comeback."

HITMAN HEADING TO OLD TRAFFORD

MAN United look set to beat Liverpool to the signature of red-hot Dutch striker Memphis

Depay.
The PSV striker is one of The PSV striker is one of the hottest properties in European football—and Luis Van Gaal will use his Dutch links to make sure he arrives at Old Trafford in the summer.

Tottenham bid around £15m for the 21-year-old last season but PSV robuffed the offer, saying it was way short of what they expect.

Since then, Depay's stock

PSV boss Phillip Cocu is resigned to losing his star

Without being able to offer Champions League football, it makes their pursuit of Depay even less likely. And the Scouse Reds face more worry over one of their stars who is soon to be out of contract.

They are already being put through the mill by Raheem Sterling who has turned new deal. Now it seems new captain Jordan Henderson is going the same way.

He's in the final year of his Kop contract and early talks on a new deal are not going well according to Anfield insiders.

He's said to have turned down the club's initial offer, giving Brendan Rodgers a massive headache as Jordan is one of the few players to have performed well this

Down the M62 at United, there is little doubt that the hunt for a new striker is at the forefront of their plans.

That's not a signing that will get pulses racing among the Old Trafford faithful who will be wondering if he's any better than Danny Welbeck and Javier Hernandez, who have been shown the door since LVG arrived.
